3. Learned advocate for the applicant submits that the nature of allegations are such for which custodial interrogation at this stage R/CR.MA/913/2019 ORDER is not necessary. Besides, the applicant is available during the course of investigation and will not flee from justice. In view of the above, the applicant may be granted anticipatory bail.

Learned advocate for the applicant, on instructions, states that the applicant is ready and willing to abide by all the conditions including imposition of conditions with regard to powers of Investigating Agency to file an application before the competent Court for his remand. He would further submit that upon filing of such application by the Investigating Agency, the right of applicant accused to oppose such application on merits may be kept open.

4. Learned Public Prosecutor appearing on behalf of the respondent - State has opposed grant of anticipatory bail looking to the nature and gravity of the offence.

5. Having heard the learned advocates for the parties and on perusing the material placed on record as well as taking into consideration the facts of the case, nature of allegations, gravity of offences, role attributed to the accused, without discussing R/CR.MA/913/2019 ORDER the evidence in detail, at this stage, I am inclined to grant anticipatory bail to the applicant. Moreover, applicant is not shown as an accused in the FIR. In another FIR which was filed against the applicant, this Court has passed an order on 12.12.2017 in Criminal Misc. Application No.29399 of 2017, whereby the FIR filed against the applicant was quashed and set aside. Except the present case, there is no other case filed against the applicant.
